

Privacy policy

Access Platform Equipments Limited (APEL), publisher of the website, www.apel.co.in, are particularly attentive in protecting the personal data of users of the www.apel.co.in website and of its clients.

This Confidentiality Policy aims to inform all users of www.apel.co.in website about how their personal data are used and about their rights under Indian Regulation, Information Technology Act, 2000, concerning personal data protection.

What data might we collect?

We might collect several types of personal data regarding you:

- Navigation data on our website.
- Data that you send us via the contact form.

Use of cookies

When you navigate on the www.apel.co.in website, we use cookies.

Cookies are data stored in the terminal equipment of an internet user and are used by the website to send information to the internet user's browser enabling this browser to send information to the original website (for example, a session identifier, the choice of a language or a date).

The cookies enable the storage, for the term of validity of the cookie concerned, of status information when a browser accesses the various pages of a website or when this browser returns to this website later.

Only the cookie issuer can read or change the information contained in it.

There are different types of cookies:

- session cookies which disappear as soon as you leave the website;
- Persistent cookies which remain on your terminal until the expiry of their lifetime or until you remove them using your browser's functions.

You are informed that when you visit the website, cookies may be installed on your terminal equipment.

We use several categories of cookies, notably:

- Cookies that are "necessary" for the smooth operation of the website and help to facilitate your browsing on the website by simplifying the essential functions of the website (such as navigation between pages). The successful operation of the website partially depends on these cookies;

- Statistical cookies (such as Google Analytics) help us understand how you are interacting with the website, the pages you consult, the device you are using, your connection country, etc. They are used to analyze visiting frequency and use of the Website.

You have several options for deleting cookies.

In fact, while most internet browsers are configured by default and accept the installation of cookies, you have the possibility, if you so wish, of choosing to accept all cookies, or of refusing them systematically or even of choosing to accept certain cookies depending on the issuer.

You may also configure your browser to accept or refuse cookies on a case by case basis prior to their installation. You may also regularly delete cookies from your terminal via your browser.

Remember to configure all browsers on your various terminals (tablets, smartphones, and computers).

For the management of cookies and your choices, the configuration of each browser is different. This is described in your browser's help menu which will explain how to change your preferences with regard to cookies.

For example:

- for Microsoft Edge (TM)
- for Internet Explorer (TM)
- for Safari (TM)
- for Chrome (TM)
- for Firefox (TM)
- for Opera (TM)

However, we inform you that if you configure your browser to refuse cookies, certain functions, pages, and areas of the website will not be accessible, for which we may not be held liable.

We also draw your attention to the fact that when you object to the installation or use of a cookie, refusal cookie is installed on your terminal equipment.

If you delete a refusal cookie, it will no longer be possible to identify you as having refused the use of cookies.

Likewise, when you accept the installation of cookies, a consent cookie is installed. Consent or refusal cookies must remain on your terminal equipment.

Contact form data

When you contact us via the contact form available on the website, APEL's Website, we might collect personal data about you, namely:

- Your surname and first name;
- Your email address;
- Your telephone number;
- Your current position;
- The name and contact details of your company;
- Business relation with APEL;
- Professional role
- Any message that you convey us.

These contact form data are sent to the APEL's Website, likely to respond to your request. The data is required by us on your request to be processed for communicating you with your requirements.

The legal basis of this processing is the consent of the person concerned and the execution of pre-contractual measures, where applicable.

Depending on the geographical area you have selected before gaining access to this contact form, your personal data may be transferred through secured channels to the APEL's company Mail Management System. This transfer is necessary to be able to manage your contact request and is carried out in a way that guarantees the security and confidentiality of your data.

APEL agrees to implement appropriate technical measures to guarantee the security and confidentiality of personal data.

What are your rights

You may exercise your rights to access, correct and delete your data and also your rights regarding the portability of your data at any time, as well as your right to limit processing or to oppose it by contacting the Administrator – email: info@apel.co.in

We inform you that your personal data will be kept for the time necessary for the performance of the purposes for which they have been collected and will be deleted as soon as the purpose of your data is over.

Changes to this privacy policy

We reserve the right to modify this privacy policy at any time, so please review it frequently. Changes and clarifications will take effect immediately upon their posting on the website. If we make material changes to this policy, we will notify you here that it has been updated, so that you are aware of what information we collect, how we use it, and under what circumstances, if any, we use and/or disclose it.
